Re: Freedom of Information Law Request – FILE No. PA-2013-0036

Dear Mr. Trotter:

This letter is in regard to your Freedom of Information Law (FOIL) request for all records our office has on file related to “any and all correspondence between the office of the Public Advocate for the City of New York, including Public Advocate Bill de Blasio, and the New York City Police Department between January 1, 2010 and September 16, 2013.” Enclosed please find documents responsive to your request.

Please note that certain records regarding the individual casework conducted by our Constituent Services Department have been withheld to prevent unwarranted invasion of personal privacy pursuant to Section 87 (2)(b) of Article 6 of the New York Public Officers Law. THE PUBLIC ADVOCATE FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK
Bill de Blasio – PUBLIC ADVOCATE

September 17th, 2012

Commissioner Raymond W. Kelly
New York City Police Department
1 Police Plaza
New York, NY 10038

Dear Commissioner Kelly,

As you are well aware, today marked the one-year anniversary of Occupy Wall Street protests. In observance of this event, a series of protests have been held across New York City, concentrated in Lower Manhattan. Given the historical precedent of Occupy Wall Street protests and the City's response, I believe it is important that policymakers are fully informed of the preparations and planned responses of the New York City Police Department.

Occupy Wall Street protest organizers have held a series of actions over the weekend and throughout the day today. Some of these protests have been disruptive; most did not have city permits. In order to obtain greater clarity on these events, I request more information related to the following:

- What is the NYPD's policy for Zuccotti Park, especially in terms of accessibility and use by the public?
- How many additional police officers have been deployed in Lower Manhattan?
- How many officers were tasked with providing additional security over the weekend?
- What additional blockades, prohibited access areas, and checkpoints have been established by the NYPD?
- What are the NYPD's contingency plans, should protests escalate or persist?

Given the time-sensitive nature of these events, please provide a response to these questions as soon as possible. I look forward to seeing a comprehensive briefing on the NYPD's response to the Occupy Wall Street protests.

Sincerely,

Bill de Blasio

New York City Police Department
1 Police Plaza
New York, NY 10038

Commissioner Veronica White
The Arsenal
Central Park
New York, NY, 10065

Dear Commissioner Kelly and Commissioner White:

I write today with a growing unease over the provision of security in our City's public parks. In a little over one week, there have been three brutal sexual assaults within New York City parks. I am particularly concerned over a report in today's New York Times that the 73-year-old woman who was raped in Central Park had come forward after an earlier encounter with her attacker, yet there was no apparent enforcement or investigatory action taken. These deeply troubling incidents raise serious, pressing concerns over the capacity of the Department of Parks and Recreation and New York City Police Department to ensure the security and safety of our public spaces.

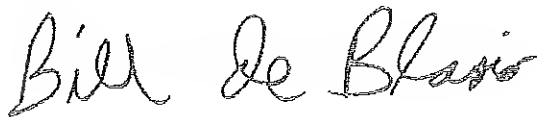

I am concerned that the recent upticks in violent crime point to a larger problem of an under resourced security infrastructure in our parks. Since the mid-1990s, we have seen the headcount for Park Enforcement officers diminished considerably. We now have fewer than 100 Parks Enforcement officers across all five boroughs. The New York City Police Department has similarly seen considerable headcount reductions, further compounding the deficiency in our public safety resources and park security. With approximately 52,000 acres of urban parkland to secure, I am deeply concerned over the impact this diminished commitment is having on park security.

Despite these resource limitations, under no circumstances is it acceptable to disregard reports of criminal activity. The public deserves greater clarity regarding the responsibilities of Park Enforcement officers and NYPD officers to respond to crime and ensure public safety in parks. In light of this, I request clarity on the following points:

- What actions were taken by the New York City Police Department and Department of Parks and Recreation in response to the Central Park rape victim's initial allegations of criminal conduct two weeks ago?
- At the time of the initial report, did park rangers or police officers secure the photographic evidence of criminal conduct for use in their investigation?
- In light of resource cuts, does the Department of Parks and Recreation have adequate resources and sufficient numbers of Park Enforcement officers to provide security in City parks? How many officers are presently available for security purposes?
- Has the NYPD altered or reduced routine patrols of City parks?
- What is the standard protocol for the Parks Department and NYPD as it pertains to documenting reports of criminal activity within City parks?

I look forward to your response to these inquiries. Protecting and securing our New York City parks is our collective responsibility. Under no circumstances can we derogate from this fundamental commitment to public safety.

Sincerely,

PUBLIC ADVOCATE FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Hon. Michael R. Bloomberg
Mayor of the City of New York

Raymond Kelly
Commissioner
New York City Police Department
1 Police Plaza
New York, NY 10038

Dear Mayor Bloomberg and Commissioner Kelly:

The recent sexual assaults in our parks have deeply shaken New Yorkers' sense of security. This most recent sexual assault in Hudson River Park comes only ten days after a similar attack involving a 73-year old victim in Central Park. Crimes in our parks demand the same seriousness as those on our streets—and yet I am deeply concerned the City is not employing the same methodical, data-driven approach in parks that it utilizes to reduce crime elsewhere.

Currently, the City only reports crime data for 31 major parks, playgrounds and recreational facilities. The data from the remaining parks—including Hudson River Park—is aggregated with general precinct-level statistics—making it impossible to identify crime spikes in a specific park. This dearth in reporting violates the intent of Local Law 114, which required crime reporting in all parks and playgrounds one acre or greater in size. In light of the most recent attacks, I request that the City immediately come into full compliance with the law.

The 2005 law allowed the NYPD to set its own timetable for implementation based on what the City deemed “technologically feasible.” With data on only 2% of parks available seven years after the legislation took effect, I believe that approach has been insufficient. I am supporting legislation removing that loophole and requiring immediate implementation.

The spike in crime occurring in our parks demands a coordinated response. We need to address the sustained reduction in Parks Enforcement Patrol officers and improve interagency coordination. But data must inform all of our efforts. I urge you to expand crime reporting at once.

Sincerely,

Hon. Michael R. Bloomberg
Mayor, City of New York
City Hall
New York, NY 10007

Hon. Raymond W. Kelly
Commissioner, Police Department, City of New York
1 Police Plaza
New York, NY 10038

Dear Mayor Bloomberg and Commissioner Kelly:

I write for clarification on some of the statements made in your (Commissioner Kelly's) October 16, 2012 letter. The letter states that "since 2005, the Police Department has provided the New York City Council with a quarterly report on major felony crime in the City's thirty largest parks," and that it has merely been "suggested" that the Police Department supply crime data to the City Council on additional City parks. However, Local Law 114 of 2005 requires the Police Department to submit to the City Council quarterly reports of the seven major felony crime complaints in all parks and playgrounds one acre in size or greater beginning on December 29, 2008—subject to the availability of resources and the introduction of the necessary technology.¹

Pursuant to the authority granted to my office by Section 24 of the Charter of the City of New York, I hereby request the following information:

- All available crime data from the thirty largest parks under the jurisdiction of the Department of Parks and Recreation for calendar years 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012 (to date). This list shall include, but not be limited to, the crimes included in the current CompStat weekly reports for each precinct.
- An explanation of the process by which the Police Department gathers information on major felony crime in the City's thirty largest parks. This explanation shall include, but not be limited to, information on how park crime data is gathered from precinct-level statistics and the protocol for recording incidents that take place in City parks.

Please provide a response to this request no later than 5:00pm on Friday, December 14, 2012. If you have any questions regarding this request, please contact me at 212-669-4102. Thank you very much for your anticipated prompt response.

Police Commissioner Raymond W. Kelly
New York Police Department
451 West 151 Street
New York, NY Street 10031-1802

Dear Chancellor Walcott and Commissioner Kelly,

I write to you regarding the tragic death of Amar Diarrassouba, the 6-year-old boy who was struck and killed by a truck at the intersection of First Avenue and 117th Street in East Harlem on February 28th, and the broader issue of accountability and transparency in New York City government agencies.

Media coverage of the tragedy included reports that over a period of three to four years, parents complained frequently to both the New York Police Department and school officials at P.S. 155 about the crossing guard assigned to this post. Separately it was reported that at least a dozen parents circulated a petition as far back as 2010 calling for this crossing guard's termination. This same group has also described complaints lodged with the NYPD's 25th precinct and P.S. 155.

These statements by parents directly contradict claims by officials and spokespeople at the NYPD and the Department of Education that neither agency has any record of complaints against this crossing guard.

Transparency, accountability and responsiveness to the concerns of citizens is one of the most fundamental roles of government. That's why it is essential to determine if these complaints were filed and if so, why they went without a response. I call on both the NYPD and the DOE to review all internal documents and correspondence to determine if either agency has received any complaints and/or petitions regarding this crossing guard, and if so what, if any, subsequent action was taken by NYPD or the DOE.

Absolute disclosure is critical to help bring closure to this awful tragedy, and to prevent additional ones in the future. Not a single parent should have to endure sorrow like this ever again – not on our watch. Thank you for your attention to this matter. I look forward to your prompt response.

THE PUBLIC ADVOCATE FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK
Bill de Blasio – PUBLIC ADVOCATE

February 28, 2013

Commissioner Raymond Kelly
New York Police Department
1 Police Plaza
New York, NY 10007

Dear Commissioner Kelly:

In a letter sent by my office to the Police Department on November 30, 2011, I requested information regarding the Department's handling of serious injuries and fatalities on our roadways. Recent tragedies have underscored the need for thorough investigations of serious crashes so we can prevent future ones and hold dangerous drivers accountable.

Just yesterday, Amar Diarrosova, a 6-year-old boy, was struck and killed by a tractor-trailer truck in East Harlem while walking to school. Earlier this week, 84-year-old Theodore Bartwink was struck and suffered the loss of a foot after being struck by a driver who jumped the curb in Kew Gardens. Last Friday, 48-year-old Marget Atwater was struck and killed by an out-of-control SUV on the sidewalk in Brooklyn Heights. And a week prior, 90-year-old Dr. Mansoor Day—a pioneer in women's health—was also struck by an out-of-control vehicle while walking on the sidewalk and suffered a broken neck, broken hip and two broken legs. These are not isolated incidents—they are demonstrative of dangers on our streets we must address.

I once again ask the NYPD to provide my office, pursuant to Section 24 of the Charter of the City of New York, with information on its crash investigation procedures, statistics on citations for dangerous driving, and measures the Department is taking to enforce new laws, specifically:

- How many drivers were cited under VTL § 1146 for failing to exercise due care in 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012, respectively?
- What education, if any, has the Department undertaken following the updates to VTL § 1146?
- How does the Department encourage its officers to utilize the statute?

In addition, please disaggregate by year, for the past three years, and by borough:

- How many times was the Accident Investigation Squad deployed?
- How many of those cases involve a fatality?
- How many were serious injury cases?
- How many cases involved neither fatal nor serious injury?

I urge the Department to meet this request no later than Friday, March 8, 2013.

Sincerely,

Bill de Blasio

THE PUBLIC ADVOCATE FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK
Bill de Blasio – PUBLIC ADVOCATE

March 19, 2013

Hon. Speaker Christine C. Quinn
250 Broadway
New York, NY 10007

Commissioner Raymond Kelly
New York Police Department
1 Police Plaza
New York, NY 10007

Dear Speaker Quinn and Commissioner Kelly,

A recent media report that the New York City Council may soon consider legislation creating an Inspector General for the New York Police Department raises serious questions about what that position might look like – and if it will have the real power necessary to accomplish its critical mission. We have been down this road before, only to see effective oversight hamstrung. This time must be different.

The need for meaningful and immediate reform has never been more apparent. Last week, the New York City Police Department conducted its five-millionth stop and frisk, and this week marked the start of the Floyd v. NYPD federal class action lawsuit trial about the use of stop and frisk. These two milestones are closely linked—with the overuse and misuse of its stop and frisk policy, the NYPD has risked department policy being set by judicial decree. That is no way for a government agency to operate—especially one responsible for our very safety.

Limited use of stop and frisk can be a valid policing tool as part of a broader strategy. But in these numbers and with these results—it is tearing at the fabric of police-community relations. The NYPD's current application of stop and frisk is unwarranted, by any measure. According to an analysis provided by the New York Civil Liberties Union, 87 percent of those stopped are black or Latino, and 89 percent of stops do not produce a wanted person or a gun. And the argument that stop and frisk alone is key to reducing crime doesn't seem to hold up. Incredibly, 92 percent of precincts have reported a reduction in stop and frisks since 2011 – at the same time violent crime in New York City has decreased.

An Inspector General is critical to reforming the stop and frisk policy—but it must be truly independent to succeed. Past efforts to establish oversight at the NYPD have failed because they lacked the necessary means and authority. The Civilian Complaint Review Board has struggled ever since its inception to fill this role, only to fall victim to circumscribed power and endless cuts to its budget. The so-called reform of CCRB announced in March 2012 did little to alter that dynamic, continuing to hold the Board's budget hostage to the yearly budget dance and political reprisal.

The Inspector General must be different. To succeed, legislation must include:

- 1) Budget Protection and Independence. One of the surest ways to cut the legs out from under a watchdog agency is to cut its funding and therefore its ability to investigate issues and take action. The budget of an NYPD Inspector General must constitute its own line-item, maintained as a fixed proportion of the overall NYPD budget.
- 2) Real Oversight and Investigatory Powers. To truly provide accountability over departmental policies, and not just individual complaints, the Inspector General must be armed with the real ability to subpoena whatever people or documents it deems necessary in its investigations. It cannot rely on an outside entity for its teeth.

These provisions of the current legislation constitute a line in the sand, and any bill that fails to include them is not worthy of being labeled reform.

If we are going to avert a six-millionth stop and frisk in the near future, we cannot allow this critical position to be watered-down and defanged during the legislative process. An Inspector General is essential to getting the reforms we need — but only if the position is armed with true oversight powers and an independent, protected budget.

Sincerely,

Bill de Blasio

THE PUBLIC ADVOCATE FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK
Bill de Blasio – PUBLIC ADVOCATE

April 2, 2013

Hon. Michael R. Bloomberg
Mayor, City of New York
City Hall
New York, NY 10007

Hon. Raymond Kelly
Commissioner, New York City Police Department
1 Police Plaza
New York, NY 10007

Re: Public Advocate Section 24 Investigation

Dear Mayor Bloomberg and Commissioner Kelly:

On November 30, 2011, I wrote to Commissioner Kelly requesting information regarding the New York City Police Department's ("NYPD") handling of serious injuries and fatalities due to traffic accidents and collisions. My request was made pursuant to my authority under Section 24 of the New York City Charter (the "Charter"), yet that request went unacknowledged and unanswered for more than a year. After several high-profile traffic deaths and injuries earlier this year, I wrote to Commissioner Kelly again on February 28, 2013, requesting that the same information be provided to my office no later than Friday, March 8, 2013. Despite the clear need for a comprehensive investigation and my office's Charter-granted authority to conduct that investigation, to date, my requests have yet to receive a response or acknowledgement from you or any other NYPD representative. As such, I am renewing my requests in this letter.

As you are aware, failure to release the requested documents to the Public Advocate is a violation of Section 24(j) of the Charter. The Public Advocate has a Charter-based legal duty to "review complaints of a recurring and multiborough or city-wide nature relating to services and programs and make proposals to improve the city's response to such complaints," Charter Section 24(f)(2), and "review the programs of city agencies," Charter Section 24(h). Denying the requested information to me is a clear violation of the Charter's explicit direction that the Public Advocate "shall have timely access to those records and documents of city agencies which the [P]ublic [A]dvocate deems necessary to complete [his] investigations, inquiries, and reviews." Charter Section 24(j). New York courts have upheld this grant of authority. See Green v. Safir, 664 N.Y.S.2d 232 (Sup. Ct. N.Y. 1997).

My outstanding Section 24 request is for information on crash investigation procedures, statistics on citations for dangerous driving, and measures the NYPD is taking to enforce new laws, specifically:

THE PUBLIC ADVOCATE FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK
Bill de Blasio – PUBLIC ADVOCATE

- i. How many drivers were cited under VTL §1146 for failing to exercise due care in 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012, respectively?
- ii. What education, if any, has the Department undertaken following the updates to VTL §1146?
- iii. How does the Department encourage its officers to utilize the statute?
- iv. The following information disaggregated by year, for the past three years, and by borough:
 - How many times was the Accident Investigation Squad deployed?
 - How many of those cases involve a fatality?
 - How many were serious injury cases?
 - How many involved neither fatal nor serious injury?

If my office does not receive all information that the NYPD has in its possession responsive to this request by 5:00pm on Monday, April 15, 2013 I will take that as a denial of my request.

Sincerely,

Bill de Blasio
Public Advocate for the City of New York

THE POLICE COMMISSIONER
CITY OF NEW YORK

January 23, 2012

Honorable Bill de Blasio
Public Advocate
City of New York
1 Centre Street
New York, New York 10007

Dear Public Advocate De Blasio:

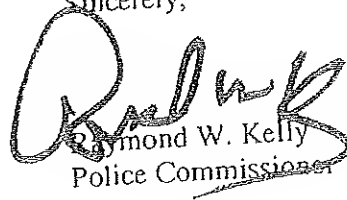

I am writing in response to your correspondence seeking information related to the deployment of the Police Department's Accident Investigation Squad and Vehicle and Traffic Law Section 1146.

As per your request, attached is a listing of the total number of cases investigated by the Highway District Accident Investigation Squad (AIS) in each of the five boroughs during 2009, 2010 and 2011. This unit, which falls under the command of the Chief of Transportation, is responsible for conducting investigations of accidents that involve a fatality or where an accident participant has been seriously injured and is likely to die. In a limited number of cases, AIS personnel conduct investigations related to accidents that do not involve either of these categories. This occurs when a Police Department executive has determined that the circumstances of a particular accident require an in-depth investigation.

Police Department personnel are kept abreast of various changes to Federal, State and local laws through written bulletins published by our Legal Bureau. Information regarding the "Hayley Ng and Diego Martinez Law" as well as "Elle's Law" was provided to operational personnel when the laws were enacted, as well as being included in the Department bulletin that summarized the change instituted for the 2010 Calendar Year. In response to your request for enforcement data, I am unable to provide the number of summonses issued specifically for Vehicle and Traffic Law 1146, Failing to Exercise Due Care, as this information is not captured as a separate category in our database. In 2011, there were 26 arrests that included a violation of this section as one of the charges listed on the arrest report. Please note that violation of Section 1146 constitutes a traffic infraction, and that a police officer or peace officer must have reasonable cause to believe that it was committed in his or her presence in order to take enforcement action.

I hope that the information provided is helpful. I appreciate your continued support of the New York City Police Department.

Sincerely,

Raymond W. Kelly
Police Commissioner

THE PUBLIC ADVOCATE FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK
Bill de Blasio - PUBLIC ADVOCATE

November 30, 2011

Commissioner Raymond Kelly
New York Police Department
1 Police Plaza
New York, NY 10007

Dear Commissioner Kelly:

I would like to begin by commending the Police Department (the "Department") for taking measures in recent months to begin releasing internal data on street safety and car crashes. Previously unpublished information is now available for public access on the NYPD's website which will provide a basis for safety research that has been impossible until now.

I write today to request information regarding traffic safety and enforcement in New York City. In recent years, the New York State Legislature has passed new laws to protect pedestrians and other vulnerable road users. These new measures—including Elle's Law—create new flexibility for prosecutors to hold accountable anyone who seriously injures or kills someone through severe negligence while behind the wheel. With traffic crashes the leading cause of injury-related death for children 14 and under, it is incumbent upon all of us to see these new laws utilized effectively. Because Elle's Law hinges upon the issuance of a summons for failure to exercise due care, statistics relating to this violation have new significance.

In addition, my office seeks statistics relating to the deployment of the Accident Investigation Squad. As crash investigations can reveal contributing factors that would not otherwise be readily apparent, I hope to better understand the circumstances under which this unit is deployed.

Please provide information relating to the following questions:

- How many drivers were cited under VTL § 1146 for failing to exercise due care in 2009, 2010 and 2011 (YTD) respectively?
- What education, if any, has the Department undertaken following the recent updates to VTL § 1146, and how does the Department encourage its officers to utilize the statute?

In addition, please disaggregate by year, for the past three years, and by borough:

- How many times was the Accident Investigation Squad deployed?

THE PUBLIC ADVOCATE FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK
Bill de Blasio - PUBLIC ADVOCATE

- How many of those cases involve a fatality?
- How many were serious injury cases?
- How many were cases that were neither fatal nor serious injury?

This information will assist my office in better understanding how we may improve traffic safety in our city. I applaud your recent efforts in pursuit of that goal, and look forward to our continued collaboration.

Sincerely,

Bill de Blasio

THE PUBLIC ADVOCATE FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK
Bill de Blasio – PUBLIC ADVOCATE

July 3, 2013

Hon. Michael Bloomberg
Mayor, City of New York
City Hall
New York, NY 10007

Hon. Raymond Kelly
Commissioner, New York Police Department
1 Police Plaza
New York, NY 10007

Hon. Salvatore Cassano
Commissioner, Fire Department of the City of New York
9 Metrotech Center
Brooklyn, NY 11201

Dear Mayor Bloomberg and Commissioners Kelly and Cassano:

The City's 911 dispatch system serves thousands of New Yorkers each day during their times of greatest need. The City must do everything in its power to ensure that this vital system operates properly to ensure our police officers, fire fighters and EMS workers can do their jobs effectively. Since the installation of a new computer aided system in late May of this year, we have heard public reports of busy lines and lost calls that have cut citizens off from this vital lifeline. When the 911 system cannot properly receive calls, the health and safety of the entire population is put at risk.

Internal FDNY communications indicate that the system may be losing up to 1,000 calls per day. This alarming number of lost calls is unacceptable and the public has the right to know if this $88 million dollar system can truly be relied upon in case of an emergency. For the foregoing reasons, pursuant to the authority granted to my office by Section 24 of the Charter of the City of New York, I hereby request the following information:

- All communications – both intra- and inter-agency communications – related to glitches, delays or defects within the ICAD system.
- All documents implicitly or explicitly referencing the number of "lost calls" that have occurred for any reason, including but not limited to ICAD glitches.
- All information related to the 911 system procurement process including, but not limited to, Requests for Proposals (RFPs) issued and bids received.

- All information submitted to the City from Intergraph Corp. related to the 911 system.
- All communications or other documents related to Intergraph Corp.'s history, including but not limited to glitches, delays or defect with other systems previously installed by Intergraph Corp. across the country.

Please provide a response to this request no later than 5:00 pm on Friday, July 19, 2013. If you have any questions regarding this request, please contact me at 212-669-4102. Thank you very much for your attention to this matter.

Dear Ms. Olga,

As per our conversation earlier here is the information I was tell you about.

A constituent contacted our office for assistance with 3-4 motorcycles parked on the street in front of 900 Coop City Blvd. in the Bronx

The motorcycle have been parked in front of the location and have not moved since April 2012. It have not been ticket nor towed due to the fact that the motorcycles are covered.

I have already tried to contact the 45th Precinct in regards to this matter and have spoken to Sgt. Polanco who have informed me that he will look into this issue, however till date the motorcycles are still parked at the location with being towed or ticketed. We are respectfully asking that you look into this matter. Thank you for your time and attention in this matter and I look forward to your response.

Hi Olga,

As we briefly discussed, the Public Advocate has asked me to reach out to NYPD to get some information on the story below. There was recent video released of 2 NYPD officers involved in an altercation with an individual found sleeping in the lounge of a community center in Brooklyn. I've attached the article below for your viewing.

Any assistance that you can provide would be greatly appreciated. Thanks

Warren

Two police officers repeatedly pummeled a shirtless man in a Jewish youth center in Brooklyn after they roused him from sleeping and moved to arrest him, surveillance video released Sunday night shows.

Cops showed up at the Aliya Institute on E. New York Ave. in Crown Heights on the evening of Oct. 8 after receiving a call about a fight between two men, a community source told the Daily News.

But Zlamy Trappler, 24, a volunteer security guard at the center, said he called cops because he found the shirtless man drunk and sleeping in the lounge of the center, which provides services to young Jewish adults.

Two police officers, one male and one female, found the man sleeping on a couch, surveillance video shows.

The officers awaken the man, identified by CrownHeights.info, which first made the video public, as Ehud Halevi, who is swaddled in a white sheet, the video shows.

As Halevi gets to his feet, Trappler comes in, and Halevi appears to have a heated exchange with the cops and Trappler, who leaves. The exchange between Halevi and the officers intensifies, with the male cop removing a pair of handcuffs, the video shows. Halevi pushes the male officer's hands away from his body, the video shows.

The officer then charges Halevi, the video shows, punching him in the face, while the female officer appears to pepper-spray him and beats him with what appears to be a truncheon.

After a two-minute beatdown, another eight police officers arrive and handcuff Halevi, who appears to be unbloodied, the video shows.

"I regret making the call. I should have let him sleep. It spiraled out of control," said Trappler.

Cops charged Halevi with assaulting a police officer, trespassing, resisting arrest and harassment, according to CrownHeight.info.

Police did not respond to requests for comment Sunday night.

The community source said Halevi had been allowed to stay at the Institute.

Sara Feiglin, wife of Rabbi Moshe Feiglin, who runs the youth center, confirmed the account given by CrownHeights.info. The rabbi did not respond to a request for comment.

Mr. Gardiner,

As your office requested, below is the preliminary summary of yesterday's shooting in Brooklyn:

On Thursday, October 11, 2012 at 2330 hours in the vicinity of Moore Street and Broadway, within the confines of the 90 Precinct, Anti-Crime Officers observed a 2000 Chevy Blazer SUV driving with no lights on. The officers, in an unmarked auto and in plain clothes, followed the vehicle to Middleton Street and Broadway where they utilized their lights and sirens to signal the auto to pull over. The vehicle did comply and pulled over to the curb. As the officers approached the vehicle on foot, the vehicle sped off. Officers then broadcast a description of the vehicle, as well as the driver, over police radio and started to follow the vehicle. After a short time, the officers lost sight of the vehicle in the vicinity of South 9 Street and Berry Street. Additional officers who were responding to the calls for assistance from the initiating officers spotted the suspect, on foot, in the vicinity of South 9 Street and Roebling where they attempted to stop the suspect. The suspect fled on foot with officers chasing him. The pursuing officers chased the suspect to the rear of 255 Havemeyer Street where they ordered the suspect to stop. The suspect stopped, turned and pointed a gun at the officers. Shots were fired and the suspect was shot in the torso. EMS responded to the scene and transported the suspect to Bellevue Hospital where he is listed in stable condition. Two officers were removed to Bellevue Hospital and one was removed to Wyckoff Hospital. all for tinnitus.

Warren,

Below is the information released to the press. We are unable to provide any investigative information.

On Thursday, October 4, 2012 at approximately 0515 hours, members of the Emergency Service Unit Apprehension Team were traveling E/B in the center lane of the Grand Central Parkway in two unmarked vehicles in the vicinity of Exit 7 (LaGuardia Airport), within the confines of the 115 Precinct. The officers observed a black 2012 Honda Fit Hybrid also traveling eastbound in the right lane, driving erratically. The operator of the Honda then cut in between the two unmarked ESU vehicles into the left lane and began to tailgate another car. Unable to pass that vehicle the Honda once again unsafely changes lanes from the left lane in between the ESU vehicles back into the right lane. At this point, a car stop was attempted, with an unmarked van pulling in front of the Honda and the second unmarked van pulling behind it, causing the Honda to pull over.

A Sergeant and a Detective, both in uniform, exited the front vehicle and approached the Honda that was occupied by 1 male driver and two female passengers. The detective discharged 1 round at the driver striking him 1x in the torso. The driver was removed to New York Hospital Queens here he was pronounced dead at 0558 hours.

Hello Mr. Barrows,

I wanted to speak with you about the upcoming anniversary of Occupy Wall Street. The Public Advocate would like to have a briefing of the NYPD's plans for this weekend and Monday surrounding the anniversary. Please let me know if you are the proper person to speak to regarding this. And if not, who should I speak with. Below you will find a few questions that the Public Advocate has:

1. What is the NYPD's policy for Zuccotti Park, in terms of entry and use by the public for this weekend and Monday?
2. Will there be any additional police presence in lower Manhattan in the coming days?
3. Any additional barricades, roadblocks, and/or check points being set up?

Please let me know. Thank you.

Regards,
Warren

Hello Vincent,

As per our conversation earlier a non-profit group is request to have a Sikh vigil at Foley Square Park this Saturday from 6:00pm-8:00pm

I am working on securing the Parks Department permit right now. However we need to know if police presence(detail) can be available for the event. They are estimating attendance of 500+ attends. Please let me know if this is possible
